ABSTRACT

The Arizona Measure of Academic Progress (MAP) was developed using the Stanford 9 Achievement Test (SAT9) scores for the period from Spring 1998 to Spring 1999. The Research and Policy Division of the Arizona Department of Education matched students who took the SAT9 in Spring of 1998 and 1999. On average, 89% of students were matched per grade level between the two test administrations. The unit of analysis for the MAP is the grade level within a school. This document contains state summary reports for reading and mathematics that show the district, school, and "star rating." The star rating, a new indicator for this report, indicates the performance by grade level of a school in relation to other schools in the state, with a five-star rating for excellent performance and a one-star rating for schools in the lowest 20% of Arizona schools. In addition to the state summary reports, the document contains grade level reports for reading and mathematics that list each school in alphabetical order by district and school. These grade level reports show whether or not the school achieved one year of growth in the calendar year (another new indicator), the school's star rating, and the school's 1999 SAT9 percentile rank. Summary

Matching and Inclusion Criteria

The Arizona Measure of Academic Progress (MAP) was developed using the Stanford 9 Achievement Test (SAT9) scores for the period of Spring 1998 to Spring 1999. Using a combination of first name, last name, date of birth and gender, the Research and Policy Division attempted to match all students who took the SAT9 in Spring 1998 with all students who took the SAT9 in Spring 1999. On average, 89% of students were matched per grade level between the two test administrations. The MAP is an elementary school (grades 3-8) indicator only.

The report includes all students who meet the following criteria:

1. The student took the SAT9 in the same school in Spring 1998 and Spring 1999.
 2. The student DID NOT take the SAT9 with accommodations in either year.
 3. The student DID NOT retake the same level exam in Spring 1998 and Spring 1999.
 4. The student has a valid score in a subject area for both years.
 5. The student spelled his or her name reasonably consistently from one year to the next.
- On average, 55% of eligible students in 1998 are in the report.

The unit of analysis for the MAP is the grade level within a school (grade level). A school/grade level combination is excluded from the report if any of the following statements are true:

1. Less than 8 students, per grade level, are matched between Spring 1998 and Spring 1999.
2. Less than 25% of eligible students in a grade level in Spring 1998 are matched in Spring 1999.
3. The grade level does not have scores on record for both years.

Indicators

The MAP report contains two new academic indicators, Star Rating and One Year Growth.

One Year of Growth – indicates whether a grade level achieved one year of academic growth from Spring 1998 to Spring 1999. The standard is based on the amount of growth in scale score points that are necessary to remain at the 50th percentile from one grade to the next higher grade.

Yes - the grade level either met or exceeded the standard and achieved One Year of Growth.

No – the grade level did not meet the standard and did not achieve One Year of Growth.

Star Rating – indicates the performance, by grade level, of a school in relation to other schools in the state. The Star Rating ranges from 1 (Low) to 5 (Excellent). For each grade level in a school, the Star Rating is interpreted as follows:

5 (Excellent) – the grade level performed better than 80% of Arizona schools in academic growth.

4 (Above Average) – the grade level performed better than 60% of Arizona schools in academic growth.

3 (Average) – the grade level performed better than 40% of Arizona schools in academic growth.

2 (Below Average) – the grade level performed better than 20% of Arizona schools in academic growth.

1 (Low) – the grade level is among the bottom 20% of Arizona school in academic growth

The Star Rating is based on the amount of growth in scale scores by grade level and subject area from Spring 1998 to Spring 1999. In order to develop a consistent Star Rating system statewide, the amount of growth in scale scores for each grade level and subject area was adjusted for regression effects. The purpose of the adjustment is to allow for a fair analysis of growth for all schools regardless of their starting point in 1998.

The One Year of Growth indicator and the Star Rating are not dependent upon each other. For example, a grade level in School A can have a Star Rating of 2 (Below Average) and still achieve One Year of Growth. This case is possible if schools across the entire state scored exceptionally well and, by comparison to all schools throughout the state, the amount of growth made by the grade level in School A was below average but still above the standard to achieve One Year of Growth.
